Brown, Narragansett Indian, won the race in 1936

Don Heinicke, Baltimore, Md., was second.

Walter Young, Verdun, Quebec, came in third.

Fourth in was Pat Dengis, Melrose A. A., of New York.

Leslie Pawson, Pawtucket, R. I., finished fifth.

Marathon Begins—In the chill of this rainy April day, 180 Marathoners leave mark at Hopkinton at noon . . . and start the 43rd renewal of the Boston Athletic Association Marathon. Here, close to the take-off, the field already starts to string out . . . with some 25 miles to go.

LINER PARIS SINKS IN MYSTERY FIRE

LE HAVRE, France, April 19 (AP)—The Paris, once proud flagship of the French Line, burned and settled in 36 feet of water at her dock today. An investigation was at once started to determine if sabotage were responsible.

The theory was advanced by police that arsonists started a series of fires in the 34,000-ton liner.

Two persons were killed and two persons injured seriously.

Police based their theory, they said, on the rapid spread of the blaze through corridors and cabins in the upper decks, and in small service closets, where were kept gasoline and wax for cleaning.

HINT AT SABOTAGE

Bakers admitted they left a coal fire burning in a cake oven before quitting the ship last night, but one investigator said that even if this were a contributing cause:

"We believe there is evidence to support sabotage. We know there was one fire set. We think there were two. There may have been as many as five or six."

An Algerian dock worker, held for several hours, was released, but all of the Paris crew was being rounded up for questioning.

A shipment of 10 warplanes made in the United States for the French army was taken off the vessel only an hour before it listed and settled in the center of the port. The planes had not been unloaded from the Paris, which arrived from New York Saturday, before the fires started.

French officials said after a quick checkup that only one case in the $500,000 shipment of art treasures consigned to the World's Fair in New York had been damaged. Two million dollars' worth of jewels was saved.

Mayor Leon Meyer of Le Havre told the Associated Press that in his opinion "incendiarists" were responsible.

Fire fighters said the main blaze originated in the ship's bakery. The heavy door of the bakery was locked and firemen had to hack it open. Meanwhile the fire gained uncontrollable headway.

The other blaze started in the barber shop, two decks above the bakery.

Liner Insured For 2½ Millions

LONDON, April 19 (AP)—The hull of the liner Paris was insured for 86,000,000 francs ($7,340,000), Lloyds underwriters reported today.

Of this total, 52 per cent, or approximately $1,320,000, was carried in the London insurance market. The insurance was spread over a large number of brokers and individual underwriters' losses consequently were not great.

Lindbergh Guarded As He Assumes Job Of U.S. Air Adviser

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 19—As shy as ever, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh played a hide-and-seek game with newspaper men today as he took over his new duties as top technical adviser to the army air corps.

The transatlantic solo flight hero was summoned to active duty by the Army Air Corps in a desperate effort to recapture for America the military air supremacy which has been lost to Germany.

Surrounded by a police guard, the Army's newest Air Corps colonel formally took over his duties and immediately closed himself in an office on the second floor of the munitions building, opposite the office of Major-General Henry H. Arnold, chief of the Air Corps.

The doors were locked and Colonel Lindbergh began work. Two armed guards patrolled the corridor outside.

Every effort was being made to shield Lindbergh from public view, and army officers were placed under a seal of silence not to talk about his activities.

When he was sworn in as a full-fledged colonel, it was learned, Lindbergh was given an assignment of almost unprecedented nature.

General Arnold told Lindbergh to take an army plane, tour every research plant and important aircraft factory in the nation and then to tell the army what is wrong with its aircraft, how it compares with Germany's air might, and how the United States can get ahead, and stay ahead, of the world in the air.

URGED BY BULLITT

Lindbergh, who reputedly has seen more of the "inside" of Europe's fighting air strength in the past two years than any other living man, was given carte blanche to study America's present aircraft development, and then tell what the Army air corps should do with its $300,000,000 aircraft expansion program.

Lindbergh, International News Service learned, was persuaded to break his self-imposed exile abroad and return to the United States to go on active duty by his friend, American Ambassador William C. Bullitt, at the Army's behest.

Politics Sidetracked As Nazis Celebrate Hitler's 50th Birthday

BERLIN, April 19 (AP)—Germany relegated world-stirring politics to the background today and turned attention to the two-day birthday celebration of its leader.

While official sources emphatically denied that the free city of Danzig would be handed to Reichsfuehrer Hitler as a present on his 50th birthday, and while the day will find 25 warships of the fleet steaming toward Spanish waters, columns of reports on the birthday preparations crowded out political news from German newspapers.

Hands still were busily at work completing profuse street decorations garlanding and beflagging the houses for the celebration that starts at 5 p. m. today.

Hitler quietly returned to the capital yesterday, ending the ten-day vacation which he interrupted Saturday to consider President Roosevelt's peace proposals.

The Fuehrer returned to his new chancellery where his first official act was to name the almost forgotten Franz von Papen as the Reich's new ambassador to Turkey to succeed Friedrich von Keller.

Observers, seeing the appointment as a move to counteract British efforts to gain greater influence in Turkey, which controls the Bosphorus, key to the eastern entrance to the Mediterranean from the Black Sea, noted the comment from the Fuehrer's own mouthpiece, the Voelkischer Beobachter.

"That von Papen, is now being dispatched to Ankara speaks for the value which the Fuehrer places upon the continuation of friendly relations between the young Reich and young Turkey," the paper added.

Meanwhile, Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop's Rumanian visitor, Foreign Minister Grigore Gafencu, was warmly welcomed.

Hitler received Gafencu for a long talk today with Ribbentrop present. It was understood the Rumanian would see Rudolf Hess, Hitler's deputy party leader, and have another conference with Ribbentrop. He is to remain over to participate in the birthday celebration.

The Morgenpost regretted Chamberlain's welcome of Roosevelt's Saturday message and accused him of "joining the front of War Agitator Roosevelt, thereby assuming part of the responsibility for all consequences which may result from Roosevelt's policy."

Hailstones—So Big!

GREENFIELD, April 19 (AP)—Hailstones as large as golf balls pelted Greenfield today, breaking hundreds of windows. The storm was preceded by heavy thunder.

Germany Faces Railroad Crisis

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—The Commerce Department declared today that Germany faces a railroad equipment crisis which may prevent its fulfilling barter agreements with Argentina and other Latin-American countries.

A report from the department's attache in Berlin said a four-year program for re-equipping German railroads "finds the rolling stock industry unprepared and gives rise to speculation as to how Germany will be able to meet railway orders made with other countries."

Charge Nazis Plot Guns Near Panama Canal

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, April 19 (INS)—The newspaper La Hora today published sensational documents purporting to reveal the extent of Nazi penetration in Costa Rica and including alleged plans for German gun emplacements dominating the Panama Canal which would be used in event of a war involving the United States.

German engineers have made detailed observations and maps of strategic positions in Costa Rica, according to the newspaper.

Certain areas, La Hora added, have been marked for possible concentration of large military forces and installation of long range gun batteries.

180 Start Marathon In Chill Rain, Wind

DeMar in 22d Hub Run, Gets Ovation From Huge Crowd

Fourteen minutes and fifteen seconds after the race started the leaders had covered two miles. At this point Clarence DeMar, seven-time winner, starting in his 22nd Boston Marathon, was running 28th, and easily. He received a tremendous ovation all along the way.

Fifteen motorcyclemen from the Framingham barracks of the State police patrolled the course under the direction of Lieutenant John P. Sullivan.

At Newton 14 policemen, directed by Sergt. Thomas F. Leehan, kept the crowd in line after motorcycle men made a pathway for the runners. Many in the crowd were girl students from Lasell Junior College and they cheered the voyageurs on their weary way.

Number Seven was cheered all along the road. Girls reached forward to gesture him on. Men were a little misty-eyed when he charged gallantly past. He was running fiftieth at Newton, but still they cheered him . . . His name, Clarence DeMar.

American Legion relief stations all along the way were busy handing out water to the runners, and giving help to those who dropped by the wayside.

Fame is fleeting, fame is fickle, fame is like a well-plugged nickle. So Anthony Medeiros, of the North Medford club, Medford, found out. He led at Ashland, but at Natick it wass all over. This is probably the last time you'll read his name today.

Pawson was the last to weigh in, at which time he tipped the beam at 131. Charles Thompson of Hamilton, Ont., weighed in at 136, and his number in the race is, you guessed it, James H. Montague was the heaviest at 192, while last year's heaviest was 201.

Antoine Boisvert, of Three Rivers, Ont., was number 216, an added starter whose name did not appear on the official entry list.

At Framingham square a plump party, with No. 13 and his underwear, jumped into the race—and jumped right out at the end of a cop's baton. It was a bet—and he lost.

Johnny Kelley took water from his dad at Framingham square. Pop was in an official car.

Wellesley College girls enjoyed the bunion parade near the college itself. A few were among the 5000 who turned out to watch the runners as they swam through the college town's center. The crowd, for the most part, was made up by mammas, papas and juniors, out for a time on pop's day off.

Pat Dengis, top marathoner of the country, the winner of eight of his last ten starts—but never a winner here—had a protege in the race, John Heinicke, No. 170, of Baltimore. Pat told scribes at the take-off that "the kid can't miss." As the grind groaned on it seemed there was some truth in his prediction as the youngster was right up with the first flight.

Manuel Souza, of New Bedford, was the first to slow to a walk, and Russell George, of Syracuse, was the first among the leaders to ask for water. He was running second at the time.

"Mother" Tebeau, near whose front yard the race always starts, said "it's the best race" she ever saw start, in her 72 years. She says this every year.

Just 26 miles and 385 yards distant, over the heartbreak hills of the Wellesleys and the Newtons lay their goal, the old B. A. A. clubhouse in Exeter street.

Of the 215 runners entered, 35 had dropped out or been rejected by the examining doctors at Lucky Rock Manor in Hopkinton.

Weather conditions when the starting gun was fired by Walter Brown were almost identical with those of April 19, 1933, when Les Pawson shattered the course record to set up a new B. A. A. time of 2 hours 31 minutes 1 3-5 seconds.

Intermittent drizzles swept Lucky Rock Manor farm as the runners were being weighed in, and the temperature hovered in the mid-forties.

At Ashland, the two-mile mark, Anthony Medeiros of the North Medford Club was leading the shuffling pack.

Close behind him swung Russell George of Nedrow, N. Y., with an easy stride, and in third place was Les Pawson, the favorite.

John Paul of the Kinsman Club, St. John, N. B., held fourth position by a few feet, and then came John DiMaggio of the Agar A. C., Somerville.

STARS BUNCHED

Bruno S. Mazzeo of Rockland, Me., was fifth at Ashland. Paul Donato of Roxbury was sixth, and then came the bunched pack, with Clarence DeMar, Johnny Kelley, Pat Dengis, sniffling with a bad cold, and Gerald Cote, Tarzan Brown and Walter Hornby.

On the four-mile reach from Ashland to South Framingham, the first official checking point, Pawson legged into the lead by six yards over Russell George.

The last-year's winner and all-time record holder (1933), was clocked in South Framingham at 31 minutes 55 3-5 seconds, or 33 3-5 seconds slower than Tarzan Brown's record for this point in 1936.

Third at South Framingham was Gerald Cote, the Canadian, and in fourth place was the dusky Indian, Tarzan Brown.

YOUNG, KELLEY WELL UP

Michael J. Mansulla of the Brockton Y. M. C. A. came next, closely followed in sixth place by Johnny Kelley and Walter Young, the Verdun, Quebec, cop and 1937 winner.

Walter Hornby of Hamilton, Ont., was in seventh place at the 20-mile mark, with Cote, Brown and Dengis following in that order.

'39 REVERE TAKES TOBIN PEACE PLEA

A fervent message by Mayor Tobin for America to keep out of impending European war was the feature of Boston's Patriot Day exercises today.

The message was speeded by a modern "Paul Revere" to Concord and Lexington.

Addressing thousands gathered in historic North square, Mayor Tobin declared:

"We made the extreme sacrifice once and made it uselessly. We will never make that dread mistake again.

"We should stand our ground and keep our powder dry."

SPREADS 'MESSAGE'

While a hush settled over the throng, the mayor handed a written copy of his message to First Sergt. Gilbert J. Woodworth, impersonating Paul Revere.

A cheer went up as "Revere" whirled and galloped off for Lexington Green to deliver to Gov. Saltonstall and assembled "Minute Men" a warning reminiscent of that passed to Colonial patriots by his predecessor 164 years ago.

Mayor Tobin declared the American people were watching today, as Revere watched the Old North Church signal lanterns for signs "of a warning that there is a positive movement under way which, if left unchecked, will seriously diminish or impair America's power of self-defense."

Meanwhile, from John Eliot square, Roxbury, Sergeant Theodore Baker, impersonating William Dawes, began a simultaneous ride by another route to Lexington Green.

Marion Talley Gets O. K. for Baby Eye Test

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—Adolph Eckstrom, estranged husband of Marion Talley, former opera star, agreed today to permit her physician to examine the left eye of their four-year-old daughter, whom she calls Susan and he calls Betty Ruth.

The child's eye disorder will be a main issue of the custody hearing which opens April 26. The singer has charged that Eckstrom neglected to have the strabismic left eye examined to determine if an operation was necessary, and that "he is wholly unable financially to meet the expenses of any such operation."

Eckstrom asserts the child's eyes already are under a specialist's care.

Counsel for both parents drew a stipulation permitting an eye specialist of Miss Talley's choice to conduct an examination tomorrow.

Tyrone and Annabella Nervous At Filing of Bridal Intentions

ANNABELLA TYRONE POWER

Serious at License Bureau Signing

HOLLYWOOD, April 19 (AP)—Handsome Tyrone Power, whose studio wanted to keep him one of Hollywood's most eligible bachelors, may wed his romantic interest for the past year or more, the glamorous French actress, Annabella, next week-end.

Exhibiting embarrassment which bordered on stage fright, the two motion picture favorites filed notice of intention to wed a few minutes before the marriage license bureau closed. Under California's three-day law, the ceremony can take place Friday. The principals said it would be simple, but divulged no other plans.

Power, whose father and grandfather carried the same name, Tyrone, to stage triumphs in this country and Ireland, had been urged by his studio (20th Century-Fox) not to marry, being told that such a step might reduce the interest of feminine moviegoers, who have established him in the heart-throb class as a challenge to such notables as Clark Gable and Robert Taylor.

His answer was his appearance at the license bureau, where both he and his beautiful blond bride-to-be signed the application with shaky hands and he tendered the clerk $4, but got $2 back. He explained he thought the fee was $2 apiece, "like theater tickets." He gave his age as 24, a native of Cincinnati. It will be his first marriage.

Annabella, born Ann Carpentier in Paris, said she is 25.

Annabella, wed a second time in 1935 to actor Jean Murat, was divorced last year. She has a five-year-old daughter, Anna, by her first husband, who died. The daughter, who once visited here, now is in Paris.

The dark-haired Power, whose name has been linked romantically with such stars as Sonja Henie, Loretta Young and Janet Gaynor, has been attentive to the French actress for months. Not long after she came here in 1937, each toured South America. They were together there frequently, but returned denying either marriage or romance.

Move to Keep Bergdoll Out

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—Members said today the House military committee, acting with unusual speed, had tentatively approved legislation aimed at preventing the return to this country of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, World War dodger.

The measure, introduced only two days ago, was considered at a secret session and won immediate committee approbation.

The measure would prevent the readmission to the United States of any person who deserted from the nation's armed services and then fled the country to escape punishment.

NAZIS BEHEAD TWO

BERLIN, April 19 (AP)—Convicted of conveying military secrets to foreign agents for money, Walter Hermann, 24, and Walter Hertwig, 19, were beheaded at dawn today. Whether they died under the axe or guillotine was not disclosed.

Popeye Stages Italy Comeback As Ban Lifts

MILAN, Italy, April 19 (INS)—Avast, mates!

With all the excursions and alarums, there was at least one bright spot today in the Italian press.

Popeye is back to delight the youth of the land.

Popeye, banned from Italian newspapers last February along with all other American comics except Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck, has resumed appearance in the weekly publication, Mamadori.

His reappearance, presumably, is with governmental approval.

British Author Who Inspired Gandhi Dies

BRIGHTON, England, April 19 (AP)—Henry S. Salt, 87, a pioneer vegetarian whose writings influenced the Indian leader, Mohandas K. Gandhi, to abstain from meat, died today from a complication of illnesses.

Defeat Seen Certain On College Closings

Overwhelming opposition from all parts of the state augured defeat today for Governor Saltonstall's proposal to abandon four state teachers' colleges, following a hearing in Gardner auditorium in which hundreds were turned away.

Three women fainted and a score of others had to leave from excitement when more than 1200 persons stormed the hearing room.

More than 70 senators and representatives joined the throng to record their firm opposition to doing away with even one of the colleges, and gave warning of almost certain defeat of the proposal before the legislature.

The governor was represented by his secretary, Daniel Lynch, who quoted the governor:

"We have reached the breaking point in state finances. Local and state government is now costing residents of Massachusetts $440,000,000 a year. The only way to curtail is to curtail. The only way to abolish services is to abolish them. The state is reluctant to take this step, but the time has come when some step must be taken."

It was estimated that abandonment of state teachers' colleges at North Adams, Hyannis, Worcester and Westfield, would save $750,000 a year, in the governor's proposal. The taxpayers' association suggested abandonment of colleges at Hyannis, Framingham, Westfield and Lowell.

Norman McDonald, speaking for the association, declared the colleges are now turning out more teachers than can be assimilated. He declared enrollment of children in grade schools has dropped 5 per cent in the past ten years.

By special train from North Adams, 250 people came to contradict him. By auto, bus, trolley and train protestants arrived from Cape Cod, the Berkshires, Middlesex County, and other sections.

"Minute-men from the outpost of the state," the delegation from North Adams styled themselves, and from Cape Cod, speakers were wildly applauded as they declared themselves "the other outpost" and nearer to the dictatorships across the water.

"Let them economize elsewhere. Let them start in the governor's office." These and other slogans were uttered.

From the governor's own party came the bitter opposition to the plan.

"The governor and the taxpayers' association, who think more of a dollar than they do of these institutions, ought to get thrown out. This state should be the last to do away with education, for this is the birthplace of education," Senator Donald M. Nicholson of Ware declared.

"The same groups which advocate 'economizing' on education for our children are fighting taxation of tax-exempt bonds," he added.

Judge Michael A. Sullivan of Dorchester, an alumnus of Westfield College, scored the proposal as "ridiculous as a person out of fuel burning the doors and furniture.

"You might as well propose to sell Boston Common," he declared amid cheers.

A bound volume listing 16,000 persons opposed to the closing of the Worcester College was shown the committee on education, who conducted the hearing, by Walter S. Young superintendent of schools in Worcester and chairman of a special citizen's committee.

Tax Rate Delay Bill Awaits Signature

A bill allowing cities and towns to postpone announcement of their tax rate until the state budget was drafted today awaited Governor Saltonstall's signature, following passage by the House and Senate.

The measure, recommended by Governor Saltonstall, also contained an emergency preamble, making it effective with the governor's signature. Under provisions of the bill, municipalities which have already announced their tax rates would be allowed to "reconsider or rescind" them.

KNOX JURY HOME FOR HOLIDAY

With new testimony that Mrs. Helen Darragh Dale had often "talked suicide," a Suffolk County jury today was given a holiday recess in the murder trial of former State Trooper George T. Knox.

In one of the most unusual murder cases in Massachusetts history, the jury was allowed to return to their homes, while the defendant also is allowed his freedom.

The three last witnesses to testify declared the 35-year-old Charlestown divorcee had spoken of self-destruction.

First testimony that the dead woman had a suicidal complex was given by Miss Elizabeth Zimmerman of Morley st., West Roxbury, a social service worker, who said she talked with Helen Dale at City Hospital.

"I talked to her," she said. "She smoked cigarette after cigarette. She told me she had been drinking. 'I jumped out of a window and they found me on the fire escape of the first floor. I made an attempt at suicide.'" Miss Zimmerman quoted her as saying.

Another witness, Dennis F. Driscoll, a customs guard who said he lived across the street from Helen Dale in Nahant, testified that she asked his wife if an insurance policy she had taken out covered suicide.

Roosevelt, Rumsey Bodies Recovered

MEXICO CITY, April 19—Brought here by pack train and truck, the partly burned bodies of Daniel S. Roosevelt, Harvard junior of Dedham, Mass., a nephew of the wife of the President of the United States, and Bronson Harriman ("Peter") Rumsey, grandson of the late E. H. Harriman, awaited arrival today of G. Hall Roosevelt of Boston.

Mr. Roosevelt, a brother of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, was flying here to take the bodies back to the United States for burial.

It was said that he might also arrange to have Miss Carlotta Constantine, 21, daughter of Arthur Constantine, head of the Mexican bureau of the International News Service, injured in the plane crash which killed the two boys, brought to the United States for treatment.

GIRL BADLY INJURED

Miss Constantine, who suffered a fracture of the left leg, while one arm was burned and it was feared the other was broken, was reported on the danger list at a hospital in Puebla, near where the accident took place, but was able to give an account of the tragedy today.

She and the young men, who were on a two-weeks' vacation from Harvard, where Rumsey was a senior, were on their way to Yucatan from Mexico City.

They were caught in a violent storm with Rumsey at the controls. An attempt was made to land, but the plane crashed into Mount Lomesa, and burst into flames. The boys were trapped in the cockpit, but Miss Constantine was hurled fifty feet.

A group of Indians put the fire out with sand and extricated the bodies. Forming a rude stretcher out of vines and poles, they carried them and the injured girl down the mountain side to the village of Guadalupe Victoria.

The girl was visited by her mother today.

BROTHER OF ELEANOR

Young Roosevelt is a brother of Miss Eleanor Roosevelt, whose White House debut was one of the important events of the Washington season. His mother is Mrs. John Cutler, of Coolidge Lane, Dedham, Mass., who, it was said, received a letter from him yesterday in which he outlined the delights of his Mexican vacation. He was a member of the Fly Club at Harvard.

Young Rumsey, whose home was at Sands Point, L. I., was orphaned by the violent death of both parents. His father, Charles Cary Rumsey, prominent sculptor, was killed in a Long Island automobile crash in 1924.

Mrs. Mary Harriman Rumsey, a daughter of the railroad tycoon and "empire builder," the late E. H. Harriman, was killed when thrown from a horse in Washington.

He was a member of the Hasty Pudding, the Institute and the Iroquois clubs at Harvard.

Miss Constantine graduated from the Sarah Smith Lawrence School for Girls at Bronxville, N. Y., last year. She is 21.

Dispatches from the United States reported that Mrs. Roosevelt, the President's wife, had cancelled a speaking tour through the West and was hurrying to Boston to attend the funeral of her nephew, of whom she was very fond.

DIE—Daniel Stewart Roosevelt of Dedham, Harvard junior and nephew of the First Lady, was killed in Mexico plane crash. In insert is Bronson H. Rumsey of Sands Point, L. I., who died with him.

29 Flee in Panic From 2 Night Fires

Twenty-nine persons were driven out today in fires in Lynn and Charlestown, the latter a blaze of incendiary origin.

Nine persons fled for their lives in scanty clothing after a mysterious intruder had touched off a bucket of oily rags in a doorway on Main street, Charlestown.

The occupants were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steadly and their seven children, Mary, Rita, Loretta, Fred, Jr., Dorothy, Gloria and Grace. Members of the arson squad, called to investigate the blaze, sought a suspect who may have borne a grudge.

In Lynn, 20 persons fled through smoke-filled hallways when flames broke out in the basement of a six-tenement apartment house on Lewis street.

Earhart Mother Plans Vigil Home

BERKELEY, Cal., April 19 (INS)—Mrs. Amy Otis Earhart of Boston today was looking for a permanent home near the starting point of her daughter's last flight.

The gray-haired mother of Amelia Earhart, famed aviatrix who vanished in the mid-Pacific almost two years ago while on a world flight, said it was difficult to believe she would never see her daughter again, explaining:

"Amelia was unusually resourceful. If anybody could have survived, Amelia would have survived."

Miss Earhart took off from Oakland May 20, 1937, and was last reported off Howland island in the Antipodes. Following an exhaustive search, she was declared legally dead.

'Marrying Justice' Faces Theft Probe

WORCESTER, April 19—Unable to raise $10,000 bail, Charles Ward Johnson, 45, former state senator and famed "marrying justice", was held today in county jail while police delved deep into his trustee accounts.

Johnson was ordered jailed on charges of larcenies and forgeries amounting to $20,849.

Johnson was arraigned before Judge Frank L. Riley on charges involving five counts of alleged larceny and four of alleged forgery, following eight months' investigation.

Police told the court they are working on complaints of additional shortages involving close to $100,000 in accounts of trusts, clients and institutions with which Johnson was associated.

PROTESTS WARRANTS

Johnson, represented by Atty. William Buckley, appeared before Judge Riley in a private hearing, protesting against issuance of warrants sought by police. Judge Riley, however, granted the complaints and Johnson was placed in the prisoner's dock and public hearing of the charges was begun.

He pleaded not guilty to all counts, but offered no defense, as Judge Riley declared the charges beyond the jurisdiction of the court and held him in $5000 double surety on one count, and in $6800 "personal recognizance" on another.

The first count alleged larceny of $1800 by Johnson from the Home for Aged Colored People, for which he was legal adviser.

Other charges alleged larceny in two complaints, of $718, and $75 from Mrs. Charlotte L. Kennerson of Highland ave., Holden; larceny of $15,375.97 from the estate of Nellie M. Porter, for which he was executor; and $160 from Gennario Bellizzi of Massasoit rd., whom he represented in a business transaction.

ACCUSED OF FORGERY

In addition Johnson was charged with forgery, by alleged "kiting" of checks, in four counts, from the Worcester Five Cent Savings Bank, in amounts of $500, $45, $800 and $760.

Johnson, son of a one-time political leader here, is married and has three children. He first came into prominence as a "marrying justice" in 1935 when he defied an edict of the then Gov. Curley to justices of the peace to halt marrying couples and leave that ceremony to ministers.

He was state senator from Worcester for four years until 1930, and had previously been many years a member of the Worcester city government as a councilman and alderman.

FATHER AND SON FACE DEATH IN CHAIR

COLUMBUS, O., April 19 (AP)—Partners in crime, a father and son steeled themselves in the solitude of Ohio Penitentiary's death row today for a march to the electric chair.

Harry and Henry Dingledine, of Springfield, O., and Harry Chapman, of Chicago, are scheduled to pay with their lives shortly after 8 o'clock tonight for the slaying of two Springfield peace officers.

It will be the third triple execution since the chair was installed in the prison in 1897—and the state's first father-and-son execution.

Before 56-year-old Harry Dingledine was the added ordeal of witnessing his son's march to the brilliantly lighted death chamber.

Chapman is scheduled to die first, followed by Dingledine's 25-year-old son, then the father.

The three were convicted jointly of the slaying of Patrolman Martin Randolph during a police raid on a resort at Crystal Lake in Clark County on Sept. 3, 1937.

Arrest 'Big Ed' Furey in $500 Shakedown

Time was when the arrest of "Big Ed" Furey was a notable event at police headquarters.

HELPS—Mrs. Lindley A. Band, wife of the Crosscup-Pishon post's commander, who is taking an active part in arranging the rummage sale of the post on May 9.

Those were the days when he was known the country over as a first class, A No. 1 confidence man, the best impersonator of a cop in the underworld, and a pal of "Nicky" Arnstein, the gambler and bond thief.

Today it's different.

Police took him today at the Huntington Hotel in the Back Bay where he has been living in obscurity.

He was singing in the bathtub, and detectives thought they'd take a peek at the canary while they were looking for someone else.

On the theory that he's always wanted for something, they took him in, and, sure enough, there was a warrant, three years old, charging him with impersonating an officer in a $500 shakedown of Harold Eldridge of Brimmer street, Beacon Hill.

And they found where he is wanted in Washington, Quincy and other places, but Boston'll finish with him first.

He's old now, Furey is. He's 65 and there isn't much time left to do in the Big House. He's just washed up. A failure, the cops said.

N. Y. Tries Knife To Cure Thief Of Facial Woe

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., April 19 (INS)—In an unprecedented experiment, the State of New York today prepared to finance an operation by which it hopes to rid George Tait of a facial disfigurement held responsible by psychiatrists for the anti-social complex which drove him to stealing since boyhood.

Tait waas ridiculed by friends and family because of his hair-lip and cleft palate and as a result turned to crime for its "compensatory effect," argued Prosecutor E. T. Gallagher.

Judge J. Gordon Flannery agreed and arranged the operation instead of giving Tait a jail term for stealing an automobile.

Taft Denounces NLRB Methods

WASHINGTON, April 19 (INS)—The National Labor Relations Board today was accused of "foolish and unsound" methods in interpreting the rights of employers under the Wagner Labor Relations Act.

The accusation was made by Senator Taft (R.) of Ohio as the Senate labor committee resumed its hearings on proposed amendments to the Wagner act.

Taft, in making the charge, clashed with J. Warren Madden, chairman of the NLRB, who was on the witnes stand at the time.

Madden said that an employer who has long been recognized by a union as friendly would not be held accountable to the board if he complained against union demands, whereas an anti-union employer would be taken to task.

"It seems to me an utterly foolish and unsound method of interpreting a law of Congress," said Taft, in charging that such interpretation by the board smacks of favoritism.

Chicken Marathon Halted by Police

An indoor marathon with 65 chickens racing through Putnam avenue, Cambridge, house was halted by police today.

Attiopheno call that "somebody is being murdered in the house" sent Patrolman James Shea speeding to the scene. He found the occupant surrounded by the chickens, which he said were kept to provide eggs for his family. Police said he agreed to move the chickens to a more suitable place.

BRITAIN DENIES 'ENCIRCLEMENT' MOVE

Halifax In Pledge

LONDON, April 19 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax offered assurance today that Britain was not attempting a policy of "encirclement" in moves to cope with Europe's troubled situation.

In a conciliatory speech in the House of Lords, evidently intended to be heard by leaders of the Rome-Berlin axis, the foreign secretary said:

"As to the cry of encirclement, I would be prepared at any time to give a most solemn undertaking on the authority of the government that no such idea would ever find a place in British policy."

PLAN NEW WAR UNIT

As Lord Halifax spoke it was authoritatively reported that the cabinet, in a session of more than an hour, had decided to establish a supply department to co-ordinate collection of material for Britain's huge rearmament program.

"What we all desire to see," Lord Halifax said, "is a comprehensive system against aggression excluding no one who will come in with us. The internal political organization of any country does not matter."

Referring to President Roosevelt's appeal to Hitler and Mussolini for at least ten years of peace, the Foreign Secretary said:

"As has already been made clear, His Majesty's government find themselves in essential agreement with the outlook on international relationships which the President expressed with great clarity and with all the immense authority at his command.

WAIT HITLER REPLY

"I have no doubt that millions of people in all countries will trust that his initiative may have a successful outcome."

(Hitler has summoned the Reichstag for April 28 to hear his reply to the President's appeal.)

Whether the new war materials department would have the status of a government ministry hedaed by a chief of cabinet rank was not immediately disclosed.

Chamberlain told the House that Britain still was in close contact with other governments about enlarging the French-British front but he had nothing to report on the progress of conversations.

The Premier, pressed to include China and other Far Eastern governments in his bloc of nations, said he would bear in mind the "desirability" of such a move.

Winston Churchill, former First Lord of the Admiralty and wartime minister of munitions, has been mentioned as a possible supply minister.

Many, however, have contended that, if he joins the cabinet, he should be given a non-departmental post so that he would not be laden with routine duties.

French Liner Burns, Sinks

tional, the secret service, warned both the French Line, owners of the Paris and the ministry of merchant marine that an effort at sabotage would be made at Le Havre.

The Paris was destroyed despite precautions taken in response to that warning.

With her superstructure eaten away by the fires, the Paris began to list heavily at dawn and a little later was straining at her ropes at a 30-degree angle.

Suddenly, with a great groan the liner wrenched loose from her moorings, turned on her side and sank slowly in the center of the port. The starboard side bellied out of the water, with smoke still pouring from the hulk.

A prompt investigation by French Line experts indicated the liner had not touched bottom but was settling rapidly.

They expressed fear the hulk would have to be broken up to clear the port and permit the liner Normandie, French Line flagship, to be taken from drydock where she was undergoing a propeller change.

The Paris, with a capacity of 3240 passengers, and unofficially valued at $15,000,000, was to have sailed today.

Among the passengers were many Americans who had booked passage homeward because of the European crisis.

Hungary Seen Tied To Italy, Germany

ROME, April 19 (AP)—Italy, maneuvering with Germany for position in the current European crisis, appeared today to have bound Hungary firmly to the Rome-Berlin axis.

The Hungarian premier, Count Paul Teleky, in an after dinner toast to Premier Mussolini at Palazzo Venezia, declared his country was "faithful to the policy of the axis which Hungary has spontaneously adopted."

Il Duce, in a similar speech, reaffirmed a friendship which "unites the strength of each country in the defense of order and peace."

The axis diplomatic campaign, which began last week-end with German Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering's visit to Rome will continue, after the scheduled Thursday departure of the Hungarian premier and his foreign minister, with Italian-Yugoslav and Italian-Rumanian talks.

Yugoslav Foreign Minister Alexander Cinca-Markovich will come to Venice Saturday to see Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano and arrangements were being made to receive Rumanian Foreign Minister Grigore Gafencu, now on a tour of European capitals.

(Political circles at Belgrade believed Italy was about to make fresh overtures to bring Yugoslavia into the Rome-Berlin camp to counter the system of guarantees against aggression which Britain and France were building in eastern and southeastern Europe.

Devaluation Bill Nearing Passage

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 19 (INS)—In spite of a split in Democratic ranks and virtually solid Republican opposition, the House today headed toward passage of the Senate bill extending the currency stabilization fund and the President's devaluation powers.

Democratic leaders believe they can pass the measure by Friday, even though they conceded a possible revolt in the House might result in restricting the President's authority to reduce the gold content of the dollar another 9 per cent. Leaders, in control conditions throughout the week, they appealed to members to defeat the bill by the Senate-approved form.

AMERICA NEEDS THE SAME PRINCIPLES TODAY!

WE HAVE in these United States of America religious and racial liberty, freedom for all men and women of whatever creed or origin. We have those blessings because we fought for and we won our independence.

The fighting at Lexington and at Concord was a part of the armed resistance our forefathers successfully made against tyranny. Out of that resistance has come the splendid nation which victims of oppression abroad have looked to ever since as a haven and a protection.

As we honor our Revolutionary patriots today let us renew in our hearts the deep meaning of the anniversary—the price that our forefathers paid for independence and the heritage of freedom which has been transmitted to us.

We hold that independence by virtue of our national strength, our remoteness from Old World intrigues, our adherence to our ideals, as set forth in our National Constitution.

We do not have to truckle to, or connive, with this nation or that in order to maintain our security and our freedom. Daily cable messages relate the international shufflings, alliances and counter-alliances which keep the Old World in a political fever. We have and we wish no part of these.

One thing we must do to maintain our structure of security intact. We must keep up our visual strength, our national defenses, so that other nations—the aggressive ones—shall at all times know that we are able to protect ourselves.

On land, on sea, in the air we must be prepared to fend off any aggressor which mistakes peaceful policy for inherent weakness.

By doing this we shall continue to be worthy of the freedom and the independence which make us the envy of the world.

Gee!—Only small boys can appreciate the thrill that comes from watching a squadron of army planes about to take off. These U. S. planes are at East Boston airport for defense of New England exercises. At right, Sergeant Edward Juska gets his newspaper from "Lady," mascot of the hangars.

RIDES AGAIN!

Medford Paul Revere (Sergt. Gilbert J. Woodworth) speeds again on famous ride . . . A Patriots Day feature.

Revere and Dawes—History tells though poets are silent, about the second ride made by William Dawes. However, Patriots' Day honors both . . . Sergt. Woodworth as Revere, Sergt. Theodore S. Baker as Dawes, enhorsed, ready to go.

Famous Ride Begins—In City Square, Charlestown re-enactment of Paul Revere's famous ride begins . . . with Sergt. Woodworth being handed the scroll before his dash. Along the route, thousands cheered . . . thrilled again with patriotic fervor.

THE FLAG SALUTE LAW won a notable and important victory when the United States Supreme Court ruled that the Detroit school committee had acted properly in barring children from classrooms because they refused to pledge allegiance to Old Glory.

You will find in the court's decision support to the sound reasoning of the late Chief Justice Arthur P. Rugg of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, who said:

"The salute is a ceremony clearly designated to inculcate patriotism and to instil a recognition of the blessings conferred by orderly government under the Constitution of the State and nation.

"The study of these instruments is a PROPER SUBJECT FOR INSTRUCTION in the public schools.

"It is plain that the Republic and the States undertake to establish liberty and to provide justice for all within their borders in accordance with standing laws.

"The flag is a symbol of those aims of government.

"It is important for all who attend public schools to know these FACTS and to appreciate these ADVANTAGES. For an understanding of these matters enables citizens to comprehend and to assert their rights and to seek and obtain their safety and happiness."

There's a mother in this land who would send her son to death on a foreign battlefield in response to the hypocritical pleas of [illegible] statesmen and militarists for centuries and who now, for their own selfish purposes, picture themselves as lily white defenders of democracy.

American mothers, American fathers and American sons want peace and DEMAND PEACE.

"There is little chance of a woman getting married in Massachusetts as compared to the Western States," he explains. There are 90 marriageable men to every 100 marriageable women in Massachusetts. Wyoming is a good bet. That area has 142 men to every 100 women."

But don't be in a hurry! As Beatrice Fairfax often and wisely tells you, "a woman who dresses attractively, speaks gently and acts properly can and will get a husband in any State."

The important thing is to GET OUT, join clubs, attend church and MEET MEN.

MRS. JAMES FARLEY REPORTED ILL

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK, April 19 A Broadway nocturne: 11 P. M. "A man called the Beauty Dept. at a 5th Avenue department store this week and canceled his wife's appointment for treatments," a legalite informs at the Cotton Club. "He canceled her appointments for the next two weeks. The caller was Justice Edgar Lauer" . . . "Mrs. James Farley is quite ill," an editor reveals at Leon and Eddie's. "She'll have to go to the hospital soon" . . . "You've only been a public figure for five years," Mayor LaGuardia consoles Marian Anderson at the Essex House. "I've never been invited by the D. A. R. either—and I've been in public life for 35 years" . . . "So you're John Gunther," Jimmy Durante greets the author of "Inside Europe" at the Versailles. "Two years ago, at the Savoy in London, you called me, but every time I answered the phone you hung up" . . . "They gave me the wrong Mr. Durante each time," Gunther explains. "I was trying to reach a friend of mine who flew in from Moscow. Walter Durante."

By GEORGE HOLLAND

AN OFFICIAL in the Boston police department has a new name, at last! Jersey Wilson, former underweight champion of the world. Several weeks ago the cops were assigned to Lindsay Lutter, a jockey at Tremont street. Currently, the cops are assigned to the arbitrary and a series of anti-vice patrolmen in other districts are shocked to learn. Saturday night the plain-clothes men were following the spot. The chief ordered the former pugilist, who recently bought the property where the restaurant is located, to have extension to parking barricade which draw up to the door.

Irrespective conditions are exactly ideal to determine whether boys have been drinking, taxi drivers have been reprimanded with revocation of their licenses for carrying customers to Wilson's. Perhaps they are afraid. Lutter and Wilson gave himself a month or two of business about the same, now pressing. Lutter himself won't starve as he was one of the few boxers of the old-fashioned variety who saved his money. And one against his case to ask relief in the courts, though his attorneys have advised him to seek a restraining injunction against the police. But the future of Broad-cloth waiters and other attendants he employs is worrying the former champ. Some of them have been with him for years.

OWEN GALLAGHER, former street railway executive, is a candidate for district attorney, a reporting to Hall, has just stepped toward a job on the Boston school committee. Former Lieutenant Governor Francis E. Kelly, a warring with members of the Boston City Council, yesterday said the courtful Fraternity is a sure thing for the Democratic nomination for the office of district attorney. Wesley Hot and his orchestra will play a two weeks engagement at the Lily Gardner Hotel beginning June 1. James B. Mayer, the highest paid man in the U. S. (net income tax records, confidential), is a two-year-old named Lynn, at the Boston Garden, Thursday night. "Easy, easy" of the fastest tracks at Narragansett, and a pal of Mayer, may be a result of his race when the youngster goes to the post. . . The colt was scratched last week when a leg sprain. Henry Wagner with West Coast backs found its way to stand the gun before the race.

THE HIALEAH RACE MEETING will see a few changes in use for charting races . . . It will be the camera . . . Cameras will be placed at the quarter, half, three-quarter, eighth, and sixteenth poles and records will be made of the position of all horses at these stages of a race. The photo charts are expected to make handicapping more fundamental . . . The Day camera reported to be perfect in catching finishes will probably be used for the same purpose at the Saratoga-Narragansett meeting. LISTEN, WORLD! -+- -+- By Elsie Robinson

LAZY? DAZY? Sorry for yourself? Rarin' to go? Then longing to jump in the bay? Wild with beauty? Then sore as a poisoned pup? What's up? Just Spring Fever! Believe me, pal—THAT'S PLENTY!

Trouble with us humans is WE THINK SPRING FEVER'S A JOKE. Laugh at it. Pretend it's something for plumbers or poets to gargle over. Yet, all the time, we know we're wrong. Know it's deeper than that . . . more serious than that. Urgent as life itself . . . serious as birth or death.

"SPRING FEVER!" what saps we are to laugh at it! Scold about it! Spring Fever isn't just a matter of swelling buds or puppy love. Nor just a time when you buy a new tractor or an Easter bonnet.

You do these things always when Spring Fever comes—BUT THEY'RE NOT THE THING THAT SPRING FEVER MEANS. Spring Fever means a whole new chance at life. Things happening . . . deep things happening—changing in deep, new ways. Sap rising. Blossoms bursting. Brooks breaking their banks—making new channels—finding new beds.

LIFE ON THE MOVE! LIFE TAKING NEW CHANCES . . . RUNNING NEW RISKS! SO WHY DON'T YOU?

"SPRING FEVER" that's what it means . . . LIFE ON THE MOVE! INSIDE YOU! OUTSIDE YOU! MAKING NEW CHANNELS . . . RUNNING NEW RISKS . . . DARING NEW THOUGHTS . . . REACHING FOR NEW ADVENTURES . . . LIFE ON THE MOVE! WHY NOT IN YOU?

Nothing wrong about it. Nothing new about it. Spring Fever's been happening ever since the world began. Ever since buds began breaking and minds began groping . . . and souls began hoping . . . Spring Fever's been under way. Nothing dangerous about that. Nothing difficult. Spring Fever's just LIFE; Life waking, stirring, yearning, reaching out for a wider horizon . . . greater opportunity. Doesn't mean quitting your job . . . or leaving your friends. Doesn't mean changing your face or your creed. JUST MEANS WAKING TO LIFE! Opening up . . . experimenting . . . doing things you've always wanted to do . . . and yourself. Making a new friend, perhaps. Reading a new book. Starting a garden . . . studying a new craft . . . giving expression, in some way, to your SPRING FEVER.

SUPPOSE [illegible] AND BEGIN TO TAKE YOUR SPRING FEVER SERIOUSLY.

Suppose you listen to that Gypsy call in your heart? Suppose you let the challenge in your blood?

Suppose you risk a little comfort—sacrifice a little safety, and instead revive that lost gaiety . . . indulge that forgotten imagination . . . recall the gallant young self you used to be. They're all there, those old dreams . . . they're all stretching and turning, yearning and burning in your heart . . . in your annual SPRING FEVER.

Why not give them a chance? WHY NOT CRY—"LET'S GO!"

Austen Lake:

Baseball Forgets Its 1838 Hub Birthday

NOT THAT I WISH TO STICK THE red end of a cigarette into anybody's pretty toy balloon, but today—the day when the Boston Bees and the Phillies launch the local baseball season, is NOT the centennial of the game. Today baseball is 101 years old. And this is why.

AUSTEN LAKE

The first record of a ball game is one played on Boston Common in the spring of 1838, a year before General Abner Doubleday walked off a square in a Cooperstown cow pasture, 30 paces on a side, and said in the voice of Genesis, "Let there be a game called baseball to answer the sport-hungry cravings of the nation."

There were no telegraphs or sport pages in those days and news traveled sluggishly. So the General may not have heard of the game which two sets of Boston teamsters, eight on a side, played on an April afternoon in 1838. It wasn't exactly baseball as we know it today, but it was essentially the same as the game which Abner founded 12 months later.

The Boston teamsters staked out an oblong and drove hitching posts, four feet high, into the turf at each corner, calling the stations, "first bound," etc. There were two outfielders and three infielders called "scouts" and a pair of catchers, one of which stood deeply behind the other to back up bad bounces. And the pitcher from 45 feet away, heaved a ball that measured 16" in circumference around and weighed 2½ ounces—a mere pee-wee in comparison with the present nine-inch, five-ounce pellet. So the score of the first game of baseball was 22 aces to 19 and lasted nearly two hours, but only two innings because there were no called strikes and the players were pretty duck wing about their throwing.

Did Abner Copy Boston?

SO GENERAL DOUBLEDAY "CREATED" a year later a game which has about the same resemblance to the current contest as your great grandmother's bustle has to the present female bathing costume. His object, as he confessed afterward was merely "to keep a crowd of local youngsters from robbing watermelon patches and scattering mushrefs."

There was [illegible] sporting equipment as he fashioned it [illegible] from rawhide and a few spikes and wound a ball [illegible] yarn. He [illegible] the corners and employed two [illegible] He [illegible] a mask were pretty crude [illegible] to [illegible] of the players.

NATIONAL LEAGUE FIELD, April 19—The Bees' neatly procured punch marked the successful launching of the 1939 major league baseball season here this morning, when Al Simmons produced the winning blow to give the Stengelmen their initial victory of the season at the expense of the Philadelphia Phillies after 12 long innings, 7 to 6.

Playing on a rain soaked diamond and through a steady downpour, the Bees climbed a weary trail to overcome a 6-2 lead and knot the count in the ninth.

The Bees used no less than four pitchers Milkman Turner, lasting but four frames and Dick Errickson Milton Shoffner and Bill Posedel following in order. The Phillies used three hurlers, Hugh Mulcahy of Brighton, Al Smith and Max Butcher.

The Bees collected 12 hits and the Phillies 10.

[illegible] was made official [illegible] Commissioner Landis Saltonstall to [illegible] the first ball.

Rainy Weather Again Holds Up Red Sox, Yanks

By JOE CASHMAN

NEW YORK, April 19—A modern Paul Revere could have traveled faster in a leaky rowboat than astride a noble steed were he bent upon arousing the New York countryside this morning.

Conditions grew no better as the day wore on, so that for the second day in succession the Yankees were forced to call off their opening game with the Boston Red Sox.

It was the third successive postponement for the Yanks, who were scheduled to meet the Nats in Washington last Monday.

The delays are costly income to both management and the players. Everybody was rearing for the skies to clear so that the opening could take place with such notable among whom were

(1) Robert Moses Grove, the 39-year-old southpaw in aching to test the [illegible] arm which has been [illegible] spring but [illegible] four innings a day until [illegible] went down [illegible]

(2) Yankee fans [illegible] Yanks [illegible] was down to the Nats [illegible] on Monday [illegible] the same thing [illegible] yesterday. [illegible] season's opener [illegible] be here on the [illegible] Yankee Stadium [illegible] doesn't get the [illegible] of the season.

(3) [illegible] one of the [illegible] on earth this [illegible] a week to [illegible] Any more [illegible] might cause [illegible] off and [illegible] Harold [illegible] or Thomas [illegible] law of the [illegible]

(4) Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis [illegible] getting [illegible] around the [illegible] he is to present to the Yankees as a reward for [illegible] championship [illegible] Mr. Landis announced [illegible] checking up what Frankie Crosetti and Gus Suhr said [illegible] during the interval.

(5) Jerry Priddy and Marv Breuer [illegible] as the [illegible] the [illegible] plans wants to [illegible] Red Ted Lyons [illegible] for duty. The Boss [illegible]

(6) Theodore Francis Williams, Temperamental Teddy, most highly publicized outfield rookie to break in since the aforementioned Mr. DiMaggio, has lived all spring for the moment when he'd get his first crack at the stadium's right field bleachers, which Sox mates tell him are close enough to make pop flies home runs.

DODGERS HAVE COURAGE.

There are others but if the six mentioned aren't enough to make the Yankees [illegible] they'll never get [illegible]

As a matter of fact the [illegible] not have been complete [illegible] as the weather was [illegible] warmed [illegible] and Yankee [illegible] Dodgers and Giants [illegible] across the river at Brooklyn.

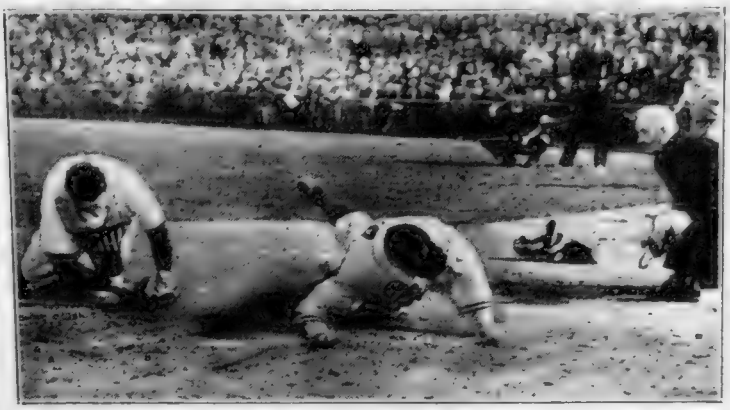
If the Yankees [illegible] big day on the [illegible] game will not [illegible] and the [illegible] customers are [illegible] to attend it [illegible] the season [illegible] of deposits are [illegible] spare [illegible] after [illegible] Harris [illegible] [illegible] president of the [illegible] the [illegible] fair-sailing over [illegible] a repeat [illegible] the metropolitan area.

"It didn't hurt us or help us," was Joe Cronin's comment on the postponement. "Jim Tabor may be a little stronger starting as a result of the extra day rest, but he had completely recovered from the slight illness which kept him idle in New Haven Monday and would have been at third base had we opened yesterday."

Cronin did [illegible] gave [illegible] changes [illegible] entire offense [illegible] Remember [illegible] assigned [illegible] to the [illegible] a left-field [illegible] Billy Werber [illegible] of the season [illegible] would [illegible] up to take [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] catcher.

He announced that Jim Tabor would play the second and first games of that series [illegible] the Sox second game of the campaign.

And [illegible] will play [illegible] the other game [illegible]



Suhr scores against Reds. Pirates' first sacker crosses plate as Joost throws to Lombardi. Pirates won, 7-5. It was season's opener in pennant mad Cincy.

By RINGSIDE

Tony Galento is about to refer a [illegible] Louis at Madison Square Garden, when unimpressed by the [illegible] of aged Jack Roper on the Coast.

"Roper was the Rip Van Winkle of the boxing game," said Tony. "He woke up at the age of 36 and Louis put him back to sleep again.

"Yet Roper hurt Louis with a couple of left hooks. This convinced me that I can beat the champion. My best punch is a left hook. I can also measure Louis off with a right to the jaw if necessary."

Galento was put [illegible] Jacobs at the Yankee Stadium on June 28.

"The show will draw a million dollar gate," said Joe Jacobs. "It is the biggest possible match Galento is a natural for the ballyhoo, and I look for him to knock Louis out."

Asked about Max Schmeling, Jacobs states [illegible] Joe Louis. Schmeling [illegible] that the show will draw a record crowd.

"If Schmeling finds he is all right again," said Jacobs, "he will return to this country for additional matches."

960 MEN REVEAL HOW TO SAVE MONEY ON WHISKEY!

Above you read what Frank J. McCrosky, Grocery Exec., said when he tried Old Quaker Whiskey.

"This whiskey must cost a lot. It's got that million-dollar taste!" exclaimed Charles F. Smith Jr., Salesman, about 3 year Old Quaker.

The Old Quaker Inspector behind every bottle is your Assurance of Quality.

"OLD QUAKER is Mild! Smooth! Rich in Flavor!" Say 960 Out of 1,000 Men—Supporting Our Belief this Low-Priced Whiskey Tastes Like a High-Priced Brand!

● When 960 out of 1,000 men praise a whiskey to the skies—in spite of the fact that it has an amazingly low price—then it's front page news! Just listen to this:

We went to 1,000 men . . . asked them to try Old Quaker—now 3 years old—and gave us their frank opinion. "Smell it," we said. "Taste it! Drink it! Then tell us what you think!"

Not one of these men knew the name, age or price of the whiskey he was judging—yet 960 of these 1,000 men actually commented on Old Quaker's richness of flavor . . . its exceptional mildness—its delicate bouquet!

Farley Is Candidate For Presidency

Former Ring Boss Always Kept Word

JAMES A. FARLEY, who moved into the political picture as a result of the splendid record he made as chairman of the New York Athletic Commission, has told intimates in New York and Washington that he will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency at the 1940 convention in the event President Roosevelt does not seek a third term. Farley considers Vice-president Garner his most serious rival.

It was Farley who lined up most of the delegates for Roosevelt before the 1932 convention. The present Postmaster General toured the country with his little black bag, sat in with members of his party at Elks clubs, local organizations and even in railroad stations.

Farley's fine constitution enabled him to stand the long road trips. When Farley went to the Democratic convention at Chicago in 1932 he opened his little black bag, and had almost enough ballots to nominate Roosevelt. The McAdoo block from California and the Garner votes from Texas then assured Roosevelt's nomination.

As chairman of the New York Athletic Commission, Farley was in the center of his share of boxing wars. They taught him how to deal with political situations later on.

It was Farley who barred the Dempsey-Tunney bout from New York as he honestly believed Harry Wills, the "Black Menace" of those days, was entitled to a crack at the title.

Refused to Yield to Pressure

TEX RICKARD brought great pressure on Farley in an effort to get him to change his decision.

"I was in a barber shop getting shaved one day," Farley later told me, "and nobody in the place knew who I was. One of the barbers told a customer that 'Rickard would finally get Farley in line.'

"There were stories to the effect that I could have got a[ny] reasonable amount of money to have okayed the match. If I had an honest change of views, I could have permitted the bout. Even my own wife might then have thought I had yielded to pressure."

It was Farley who barred Max Schmeling out of New York until he kept his promise to meet Jack Sharkey in a return bout.

"You can go home and sleep on it," was a common expression of Farley's when he gave his word.

As chairman of the New York Athletic Commission, Farley never broke his word. He carried this same principle into politics which was something new. It helps explain the amazing political success of the Postmaster General.

If Roosevelt seeks a third term, as many of his close Boston friends believe he will do, Farley will not seek the Democratic nomination. He will be stepping around the country with his little black bag, lining up delegates for the President.

Cold and Rain Retards Golfers

SINCE I returned from the South, I have been obliged to pass up golf as a result of the poor weather conditions. Along with other local golfers, I shall have to wait a few more days before turning in my card with the familiar 100 to 110 score.

One can see why the South and California have been so successful in developing star golfers. Players from these sections of the country can play golf on almost any day in the year.

The crack amateurs and professionals from the North keep tuned up by journeying South each year, but the average golfer cannot take advantage of such a luxury. He often has to play under the most adverse weather conditions or not play at all.

It has been a late spring, and this condition has not given any cheer to the golfers. A few warm days would be appreciated. They would help dry out the various local courses, and open the way for thousands of golfers to sweep into action.

Baseball and other sports now recognize the importance of golf in the matter of public appeal, and are doing their utmost to offset its influence.

When racing first came to New England many golfers for a time deserted the links for the track, but most of them have returned to the fairways. Golfers, of course, attend the races on days of big races, but they prefer banging away at the little white agate to trying to drive the mutuel machines back.

Random Shots at Target

IT IS THE opinion of Nate Lewis that when Henry Armstrong finally begins to slip that he will fade out of the fistic picture over night . . . Lewis contends that Armstrong uses up more vitality in ten rounds than the ordinary boxer does in 20 . . . As Hammering Henry is one of the ring's biggest money makers, he should have plenty of money when it comes time for him to bow out of the fistic picture.

"Rip" Valenti was on the telephone with the information that the Lou Ambers-Honey Mellody bout, carded for next Tuesday night at the Garden, is attracting more attention than any tussle he has billed this year . . . Harry Kelley says "Machine Gun" Henry Chmielewski is prepared to toss dynamite again.

Sharkey Boss In Battle Royal

This is the feature of Promoter Sam Price's Patriots' Day wrestling program.

In other bouts two sparkling newcomers—Florio Dias from Portugal and Leo Alexander from Sweden—will make their U. S. bows. Dias tackles Dan Cady, Notre Dame, and Alexander tackles King Kong Frankenstein. The rest of the card is Fred Bruno vs. Steve Karas, Joe Maynard vs. Pat Schaeffer and Angelo Cistoldi vs. Art. Grennon.

Title Bout Looms For Mellody If---

If Honey Mellody, Charlestown, defeats Lou Ambers, Herkimer, N. Y., Hurricane, next Tuesday night at the Boston Garden in the 10-round feature of a Goodwin A. C. show, he will supplant Ambers as the opponent for Henry Armstrong in a summer title fight.

This was definite word today from Promoter Mike Jacobs who has Ambers and Armstrong, lightweight champion of the world, lined up for a title fight in June at one of the N. Y. ball parks.

AMBERS 9 TO 5

"If Ambers is beaten in Boston, it will just about wreck the gate and there'll be nothing for me to do but give the Boston boy a chance at the crown," said the ring czar.

Jacobs is rooting for Ambers to defeat Mellody but the Armystrong camp has taken the opposite stand. It seems the lightweight king, who took the crown from Ambers a year ago, is not anxious to meet the Herkimer Hurricane again if this can be avoided.

Armstrong took a severe beating from Ambers even though he got the decision and the title. He admits Ambers gave him the toughest fight of his career. Armstrong has had several very rugged encounters since then and is pretty well slashed up.

Ambers is doing no worrying about Jacobs' plan to move in Mellody if Lou loses here. He's a 9-5 favorite over the Charlestown hope and confident that he'll win.

DENNER VS. RILEY

Ambers is going to shoot for a knockout triumph here, just to clinch the thing and avert any possibility of missing a return encounter with Armstrong.

Matchmaker Rip Valenti has signed Martin Riley Fall River, and Abe Denner, West End, for the eight-round semi-final bout, another strong attraction.

Finn was pitching for the alumni, Bird for the varsity.

Sullivan, first man up for the alumni in the first inning, hit a home run.

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—Maxie Berger of New York, the former Montreal fighter who still holds the Canadian lightweight title, handed Buster Carroll of Lowell, a sound beating to win on a technical knockout in the second round of their eight-round bout at the Broadway arena.

Finding Carroll willing to swap punches, Berger went to work in the second round and flattened him twice with rights to the mouth before Referee Eddie Josephs halted the bout after a minute and 30 seconds of the second round. Carroll's mouth was so badly cut he was taken to the Bushwick hospital for treatment.

JOHN CARLIN WALTER IN PERSON ALLEN O'ROURKE

Since Walter Young won the B. A. A. Marathon back in 1937, he has become a constable at Verdun, Canada. Walter is accompanied by two officers in his troupe who are bent on helping him carry back the first prize across the border. Apparently his brother officers mean business for they have put the "old strangle hold" on their choice just to impress him that all must be attained. Pictured left to right are Constable John A. Carlin, Walter himself and Allen O'Rourke.

WALTER YOUNG SAM MELLER MRS. WALTER YOUNG

Walter Young of Verdun, Canada, winner of the Marathon run back in 1937 has a lot to answer for should he fail to lead the pack today. Walter has plenty of backing for not only is the little woman along but two constables and a former winner of the event, Samuel Meller, formerly of Yonkers, New York and the winner back in 1902 is pictured starting his candidate with a hotel room for a backing. Mrs. Young is along to give her "big" boy encouragement.

180 ANSWER MARATHON GUN

Again the positions shifted along the gusty, rainy route and at Natick square, second official checking point, Tarzan Brown was ahead of the shufflers-along—but he was behind his record time for this point set in 1936.

Brown was timed at 53 minutes 4 seconds at Natick, or 2 minutes 19 seconds behind his 1936 time. However, he was 1 3-5 seconds ahead of the time Pawson made at Natick in 1933, when Pawson broke the record for the entire course.

Walter Young plodded a few yards behind Brown at Natick; then came Pawson, Gerald Cote, Johnny Kelley, Don Heinicke of Baltimore, Mansulla, Walter Hornby, Russell George, George L. Durgin of the B. A. A. and Pat Dengis running elbow to elbow, and Fred Bristow of Toronto.

YOUNG, BROWN EVEN

On the two-mile downhill stretch from Natick to Wellesley, Policeman Walter Young pulled up to Tarzan Brown's elbow and the Indian had less than a chest in front of the Canadian as they swung past this checking point.

The clockers snapped them both at 1 hour 9 minutes 54 4-5 seconds. This was 2 minutes 23 4-5 seconds behind Brown's 1936 record for the checking point, but 1 minute and 1 second ahead of Pawson's time in 1933.

Les Pawson was in third niche at Wellesley, where the college girls were out in force, as usual, despite the rain, to cheer the plodders and offer them oranges, lemons, drinks and giggling advice.

Not far behind Pawson came Gerald Cote. Next, in order, there were Don Heinicke, Johnny Kelley, Walter Hornby, Mansuula, Durgin and Pat Dengis—still sniffling in the best of the chill drizzle.

AHEAD OF RECORD

Seventeen miles from the start—four miles away from Wellesley and nine miles from the finish—Brown and Young still plodded side by side at the old Woodland Park Hotel in Auburndale.

With a 150-yard lead on the third man, Gerald Cote, they were timed here at 1 hour 37 minutes and 20 seconds, still ahead of the Pawson time in his record year but behind Brown's time when he set checking point records as far as Coolidge Corner.

Les Pawson was in fourth place at Auburndale, Heinicke was fifth, and Pat Dengis was behind Heinicke, his protege. Johnny Kelley came next—and then Hornby, Durgin and Mansulla.

The gruelling hills of the Newtons were ahead of the trudgers, however, as they went through Auburndale.

BROWN GRABS MARGIN

Safely weathering the hills, Brown pulled ahead of Policeman Young and had a 200-yard lead rolling down the slope from Boston College to the Lake street checking point.

The timers clicked the Narragansett Indian in record-breaking time.

Today's time for the point was 1 hour, 57 minutes, 47 4-5 seconds. This was 1 minute 55 1-5 seconds ahead of his own record in 1936 at Lake street and 3 minutes 10 4-5 seconds better than the Lake street time made by Pawson when he broke the course record in 1933.

Behind Young, and in third position, came the surprising Baltimore youngster, Don Heinicke—with only a little more than five miles to go to the finish.

DEMAR FIT

Clarence DeMar, the old warhorse, was number 7 to be examined by the doctors at the starting farm and to be weighed in. It was a coincidence that he was also No. 7 in the Marathon lineup.

"Hope I can pass this test," said the veteran as he stripped, but he grinned at the medicos as he said it and they grinned back, understanding that he was kidding.

"Sound as a nut," Clarence was pronounced.

Then he stepped on the scales and was registered at 140 pounds.

"Just like Tony Galento," one of the hangers-on cracked.

WEARS OLD TOGS

A few minutes later he shook hands with Johnny Magee, track coach at Bowdoin College and former Olympic track mentor. Since 1898, Magee has never missed a Marathon year as an official. This year he was a marshal.

Carpenters, bricklayers, cops, WPA laborers and plenty of the "unemployed" were milling around Mrs. Alice Tebeau's Lucky Rock Manor farm from sun-rise, even the most lowly "hopping" themselves up with predictions of victory.

Not the largest entry list in Unicorn history by any means, it was one of the most impressive, including the kings of the plodding world, mostly marshalled from United States and Canada.

While the concrete-pounders bathed themselves in arnica and liniment and ate sparingly of their pre-race nourishment, the roads all the way from the Hopkinton start into the Exeter street, Boston, finish line, were filling rapidly.

500,000 SEE RACE

More than half a million souls, even to babes-in-arm, were picking their choice vantage points for a classic that comes along just once a year and rightfully is called "the greatest free show on earth."

Many of the newer generation of Unicorn warriors were estimating the chances of a new course record, seeing the lowering of the standard set by Leslie Pawson of Pawtucket, the time of 2 hours, 31 minutes, 1 3-5 seconds set in 1936.

But older, more experienced veterans, were counselling caution, knowing from their many failing attempts of bye-gone years, how elusive is a new course record and how nearly unattainable.

Hyde Park Boy 3-Mile Victor

Displaying fine form all the way, John N. Richardson, Hyde Park High School, today captured the annual Norfolk Y. M. A. novice three-mile road race, leading the field for the greater part of the distance over the Roxbury course.

Richardson's time was 16:25, 12 seconds short of the record.

Q. J. Cullen, unattached, finished in second place but was disqualified, giving the place position to Jack Watkins, Hunt School.

Ed Dullea, Jamaica Plain Neighborhood House, took third place, followed by David Ballantine, Newton Y. M. C. A., and John Cufran, Tabood Club.

ARCHIBALD NEW FEATHER CHAMP

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 19 (INS)—Requiring the final round to make certain of victory, Joey Archibald of Pawtucket, R. I., made an inspiring rally which enabled him to win the featherweight championship of the world by vanquishing Leo Rodak of Chicago in a 15-round bout at the Auditorium.

Rainy and foggy weather kept the attendance below 5000 and the receipts at about $11,000.

It was the first world's championship ever held in this state and Rhode Island's big night in pugilism attracted many celebrities including Gov. William H. Vanderbilt; Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion, boxing commissioners from six states, National Boxing Association officials and Nat Fleischer, editor of Ring magazine, who presented a belt to the winner.

Archibald weighed 123¾ pounds and Rodak who had difficulty making the poundage, scaled in at 125. The referee was Tim Ferrick of Providence and he was the sole official empowered to make a decision.

QUIT COLLEGE

The new titleholder deserted Providence College where he was studying medicine to make his bid for the championship.

They fought to clear up their muddled title claims since Joey was recognized as champion in New York state and his adversary was considered boss of that division by the National Boxing Commission.

Rodak fought cautiously, his lack of aggressiveness bringing about his downfall. He struck the most damaging blows and cut his opponent about each eye, almost closing the right optic with stabbing lefts.

He battled in spurts, rarely ever leading, and permitted the bull-like little Rhode Islander to swarm all over him to rake his body with both hands.

Except for the 14th round when Archibald seemed to tire, he set the pace although trying to rate himself since it was his second bout over the championship distance.

Neither warrior was in danger of a knockout at any phase of the battle, although both were stung with powerful right handers to the chin.

RODAK GOOD PUNCHER

Rodak sent Joey skidding across the ring with a right to the chin in the third and Joey staggered his opponent with a hard left to the same region in the sixth.

Leo whipped a right to Archibald's jaw as they were slamming away after the bell and Joey appeared a bit woozy. However, he came out slugging for the next round.

Both struck low blows in the eleventh.

Each round was much like the other without the semblance of a knock-down.

The new champion is 25 and was born in Pawtucket. He has been boxing as a professional for eight years. Joey has engaged in 74 fights, won 56, lost 15 and has been knocked out three times, once by Pete Scalzo of Brooklyn.

He succeeds to the title left in abeyance when Henry Armstrong surrendered the least important of the three championships he held, two years ago.

Babe Synnott, 146, of Fall River, Mass., beat Freddie Cabral, 143½ of Cambridge, in a six. Larry Bolvin, 123, of Providence, stopped Bobby Martinez, 121, of Waltham, in the first round of their six and Jimmy Bell, 147, of New Haven, took the opening four from Lou Pico, 147, of Providence.

Norwich Polo Teams Seek Title

NORTHFIELD, Vt. April 19—Polo teams representing the Norwich University junior and sophomore classes will meet tonight in the Norwich riding hall for the college championship.

In preliminary games the juniors eliminated the seniors and the sophomores defeated the freshmen. A team trophy and individual goblets will be presented the winners of Wednesday night's final contest.

The juniors' entry will carry Archer Twitchell, Thomas O'Dwyer and James McCarthy. Sophomore players will be Arthur Curtis, Richard Dwyer and Everett Mullen.

Referee Praises Roper

LOS ANGELES, April 19 (INS)—"The man is in knee pants who will take the heavyweight championship from Joe Louis," said Jack Roper, latest victim of the Brown Bomber.

Roper, who was knocked out in 2 minutes and 20 seconds of the first round at Wrigley Field, said there wasn't another heavyweight around now who belonged in the same ring with the great champion.

"He'll last another five years against any company," commented Roper.

George V. Blake, referee of the brief championship fight, paid a nice compliment to the beaten Roper.

"He definitely wasn't afraid of Louis," said Blake, "and went out there gambling on the chance of a knockout win. Roper is a cute old-timer and he could have stayed five or maybe ten rounds if he wanted to hold, stall and grab.

"He couldn't have won that way and he tried for a win. Yes, he really shook Louis with not one but two left hooks. He might have stopped anyone else but the Bomber. But Louis is so quick with his fists he took the play away before Roper could finish his job."

Billy Myers, brilliant shortstop of the Cincinnati Reds was the first casualty of the 1939 baseball season.

B'S WIN OPENER

It's Official Now—Boston's baseball season gets off to a lusty, if delayed, start today as Governor Leverett Saltonstall tosses out the first ball with a form that makes Manager Casey Stengel's eyes pop out. Bees played Philadelphia. Grounds wet, weather cold, but they played.

Simmons Single Ices Game in 12th

By JACK CONWAY

NATIONAL LEAGUE FIELD, April 19—Al Simmons' drive to centerfield in the 12th inning chased Deb Garms across the plate with the winning run here this afternoon as the Bees successfully opened their 1939 season with a victory over the Philadelphia Phillies, 7 to 6, before 3000 shivering fans.

Generally inclement weather slowed down the game considerably.

Governor Leverett Saltonstall tossed out the first ball as a scant 3000 courageous fans cheered and shivered.

Newcomer Hassett pushed the Bees into the scoring column for the first time this season when his single to right in the opening inning sent Deb Garms across the plate with the initial tally. Garms had previously walked and moved to second on Cooney's sacrifice. Hassett scored for the Boston club after moving to third on Al Simmons' single, when Tony Cuccinello hit into a force play at second.

In the second stanza, the Phillies broke out with three hits, a walk and a long sacrifice fly to push across three runs, George Scharein's single with the bases loaded being the big blow.

Eddie Miller's wild throw attempting a double play put the Phils in position for another score in the fourth, with Millies providing the driving-in punch.

After Hodgkins batted for Turner, Dick Errickson took up the hurling duties in the fifth inning with the Doc Prothro crew jumping on the youngster for a pair of runs before the Bee could get settled. A single, a walk and a double by Arnovich accounted for the pair of scores.

Cuccinello scored after doubling in the Bees' half of the inning and drew up another run in the sixth on Johnny Hill's pinch-hit double. Shoffner took up the hurling duties in the seventh.

A Boston spurt fell one run short of tying in the seventh, when, with the winning runs on base, Shoffner and Garms failed to hit after Cuccinello had registered the Bees' fifth score.

Lopez's single and Outlaw's pinch walk set the stage for Deb Garms in the ninth inning and the third baseman came through with a single to center to score Lopez with the tying run.

Al Simmons' big bat brought the game to a close in the last half of the 12th when a single to center brought Garms across the plate with the winning run. Garms had reached first on an error and moved to second on a sacrifice bunt.
